

LakeLiving Cabinets are considered RTA (Ready To Assemble) cabinets. This means that these cabinets are shipped, flat packed and assembled by the installer or home owner, prior to installation.

As Contractors ourselves, we have used these cabinets in many of our own new construction projects.

There are 3 categories/styles and 3 price points.

They are made of solid wood and have soft close doors and drawers.

For a "budget friendly" cabinetry line, we really are impressed by their quality and durability.
